Balchem Corporation Named on Newsweek's 2023 List of America's Most Responsible Companies

Montvale, New Jersey, January 6, 2023. Balchem Corporation (NASDAQ: BCPC) announced that the Company has been named one of America's Most Responsible Companies by Newsweek and Statista Inc., the world-leading statistics portal and industry ranking provider. Balchem has earned a ranking amongst this prestigious list of companies for the third consecutive year.

America's Most Responsible Companies were selected based on publicly available key performance indicators derived from CSR Reports, Sustainability Reports, and other reports as well as an independent survey. The KPIs focused on company performance in the environmental, social, and corporate governance areas, while the independent survey asked U.S. citizens about their perception of company activities related to corporate social responsibility.

"As a company committed to making the world a healthier place, we are thrilled to once again be included on Newsweek's list of America's Most Responsible Companies," said Ted Harris, Balchem's Chairman, President, and CEO. "As mentioned in our most recent sustainability report, we are hard at work and making good progress to deliver on our 2030 environmental goals to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and water usage by 25%. This honor reflects our progress in driving a culture of responsibility and our commitment to operating with excellence as strong stewards of the planet and our stakeholders while providing innovative solutions for the health and nutritional needs of the world."
